Dr. Sunita Patil Guides 3rd Year Engineering Students at SVKM's NMIMS Shirpur Campus for Final Year Project Selection

Dr. Sunita Patil, the Director of SVKM's NMIMS Shirpur campus, delivered an inspiring address to 3rd-year engineering students, guiding them in the selection of their final year projects. Her address focused on the importance of choosing socially impactful projects and the pivotal role students play in shaping the future of India.

Key Highlights from Dr. Patil's Address:

1. Significance of Social Projects: Dr. Patil emphasized the importance of selecting projects that contribute to societal well-being. She encouraged students to look beyond technical challenges and consider how their work could address real-world problems, thereby making a positive difference in their communities and the nation.
2. Role of Students in Future India: Highlighting the critical role that students play in the development of the country, Dr. Patil urged them to take on responsibilities that extend beyond academics. She stressed that their innovations and contributions could significantly impact India's progress and development.
3. Becoming Role Models: Dr. Patil inspired students to become role models for their juniors. She spoke about the importance of setting a positive example through dedication, ethical conduct, and a commitment to excellence. By doing so, they can motivate and guide younger students, fostering a culture of continuous improvement and innovation within the campus.

Dr. Patil's insightful and motivational address is expected to have a profound impact on the students, encouraging them to undertake projects that are not only technically sound but also socially relevant, paving the way for a brighter future for India.
