

Research Embedded Learning (REL) Poster Symposium-2024

The Research Embedded Learning (REL) Poster Symposium-2024 was held on November 23, 2024, from 11:00 AM to 1:00 PM. This event was a prerequisite for participation in the University's Research Embedded Learning (REL) Poster Symposium-2025. The program commenced with an inaugural address, followed by poster presentations and evaluations. Dr. Venkatadri M., Associate Dean of MPSTME Shirpur, and Dr. Sunita Patil, Director of MPTP Shirpur Campus, provided valuable insights on the significance and impact of research-embedded learning, motivating the participating teams. A total of 28 teams participated, including 19 from Computer Science and 09 from AIML, all of whom presented their capstone projects as posters.

In addition to the participating teams, junior students attended the symposium to learn how to implement and present their projects in future events. The event was inaugurated in the Seminar Hall and was attended by 140 participants, including faculty, students, and the participating teams. To ensure smooth proceedings, the Poster Symposium was conducted across the Seminar Hall, CAD Lab, and AIML Lab, with evaluations carried out by nine judges.

This event marked the first phase of the Poster Symposium, with the second phase scheduled for December 2, 2024, for Information Technology and Computer Engineering students. The Institution's Innovation Council (IIC) organized and coordinated the event.
