3. Event Details (10–15 Lines)

The bitsCrunch x AI Builders Hack 2025 is a global virtual hackathon designed to bring together developers, data scientists, AI engineers, and Web3 innovators to explore the intersection of artificial intelligence and blockchain analytics. Participants leverage the powerful bitsCrunch API platform to build intelligent bots, dashboards, agents, and analytics-driven applications for the NFT and Web3 ecosystem. The hackathon encourages the integration of AI models, LLMs, chatbots, and data pipelines with real-world NFT and wallet data.

The event is open to experienced developers as well as beginners interested in AI, Web3, and data analytics. Throughout the hackathon, participants receive technical guidance, mentorship, and community support from the bitsCrunch team. The initiative aims to foster innovation, creativity, and practical problem-solving using blockchain intelligence tools.

- Target Audience: AI/LLM Developers, Web3 Builders, Data Scientists, Students, and NFT Analysts
- Number of Participants: 85

Objectives of the Event:

1. Encourage AI and LLM developers to adopt bitsCrunch APIs in Web3 applications.
2. Enable development of real-world use cases such as bots, risk analysis tools, and AI chat assistants.
3. Showcase the value of NFT and wallet intelligence within the AI ecosystem.
4. Promote adoption of bitsCrunch SDK, risk scores, and analytics APIs.
